

Johnson, Rodney Bio:

Rodney J. Johnson is currently President of Erudite Risk and Resilience Cloud. He has spent most of his work life in Asia. Working in both the IT and the risk management sectors, he has been based in Korea and Singapore, while running companies with direct operations in Korea, China, Singapore, and India. He is the former country manager of a Korean subsidiary of a Silicon Valley operating systems start-up, which was acquired by Samsung SDS, Korea's largest systems integration company. Following that acquisition, he served as the chief operating officer of the new Samsung-affiliated company that resulted from the acquisition.

Mr. Johnson is also a former technology analyst, reporting on Asian technology issues, and served as an intelligence analyst in the US Army. Over the last 14 years, he has led or been involved with more than 2000 risk management, investigation, and security-related cases for multinational companies in Asia, as well as directly consulted for more than 40 of the Fortune 100. He has a BA in economics and mathematics and an MBA from the University of New Mexico's Anderson School of Management. He has held CFE, CPP, CAMS, and ATO certifications.
